- 1990 – 1994      Westvale Golf Club, Teaching Golf Professional; Syracuse, New York.

Education and Honors

Education

- Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D), University of Tennessee, (2000). Knoxville, Tennessee
Field of Study: Education
- Master of Science (M.S.), Miami University, (1997). Oxford, Ohio
Field of Study: Sport Behavior and Performance
- Bachelor of Arts (B.A.), State University of New York (1993). Oswego, New York
Major: Psychology
- Associate in Arts (A.A.). State University of New York, Onondaga Community College (1990).
Syracuse, New York.
Major: Humanities

Honors

- Fellow, Society of Behavioral Medicine (2023)
- Researcher of the Year: College of Physical Activity and Sport Sciences, West Virginia University (2021).
- Mentoring Undergraduate Students in Research: West Virginia University finalist, (2019).
- Mentoring Undergraduate Students in Research: West Virginia University finalist, (2017).
- Grant Writer of the Year: College of Physical Activity and Sport Sciences, West Virginia University (2016).
- Certificate of Appreciation: McNair Undergraduate Minority Mentoring Program, (2006)
- 2000: Certificate of Outstanding Achievement in Sport Psychology, Presented by the University of Tennessee, College of Education.
- 1993: Graduated Cum Laude from the State University of New York, College at Oswego.

Research Highlights

- 85 peer-reviewed publications
- Multiple sources of funding from state, national, and private sources including Facebook/Meta via Global Impact
- Fellow in the Society of Behavioral Medicine
- Expertise in the use of guided imagery for health behavior change

Grants and Contracts

Extramural Funding

A Scalable Health Intervention with Rural and Urban Midlife Adults to Reduce Risks of Cardiovascular Disease: A Novel Approach Testing the 24-Hour Activity Cycle (24-HAC). Facebook/Meta. Role: Principal Investigator. 6/1/2022 to 7/1/2023. Direct costs $93,181.00, F&A costs $48,454.00.

Testing the Efficacy of a Scalable, Telephone Delivered, Guided imagery Tobacco Cessation Intervention. National Institutes of Health, National Center for Complementary and Integrative Health (R01, University of Arizona, Gordon, PI). Role: Co-Investigator. 6/1/2021 to 6/30/2026. Direct costs: $14,540.00, F&A costs $7,561.00.

Evaluation of the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Services, Health Promotion and Chronic Disease Strategic Planning and Evaluation Grant. The purpose of this evaluation contract was to evaluate the capacity building grant program administered by the WV Bureau for Public Health. Role: Co-Investigator. 7/19/2019 to present. Direct costs,

Evaluation of the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Tobacco Prevention and Control Grant. The purpose of this evaluation contract is to evaluate tobacco prevention and control efforts administered by the WV Bureau for Public Health. Role: Co-Investigator at 10% FTE in the academic year and 15% FTE during summer 2023. 9/1/2022 to 6/29/2023. Direct costs $108,364.00, F&A costs $26,580.00.

Completed External Research Support

Multiple Yearly Evaluation Reports to the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Services, Health Promotion and Chronic Disease Strategic Planning and Evaluation. The purpose of this evaluation contract is to evaluate the capacity building grant program administered by the WV Bureau for Public Health. Role: Co-Investigator. 7/1/2019 to 2022.

Multiple Yearly Evaluation Reports to West Virginia Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Tobacco Prevention and Control. The purpose of this evaluation contract is to evaluate tobacco prevention and control efforts administered by the WV Bureau for Public Health. Role: Co-Investigator at 17% FTE. 9/1/2020 to 8/30/2021. Direct costs $108,364.00, F&A costs 26,580.00.

Sport for Social Change in Mexico. (PI: Watson, OSP University of Montana/United States Department of State. Role: Co-Investigator. 8/1/2018 to 9/1/2019.

Large Scale Medical Informatics for Patient Care and Coordination. National Science Foundation (PI: Adjeroh, NSF-16-510). Role: Co-Investigator. 9/1/2018 to 8/31/2020.

West Virginia Prevention Research Center, (PI: Dino, U48 DP005004-02) funded by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. As Deputy Director, my role was to oversee evaluation, translation, and dissemination of research, and engage faculty on various projects. Dates: 12/1/2016 to 2/2020. Co-investigator on competitive renewal received 7/1/2019.

A guided imagery tobacco cessation intervention delivered by a quitline and website. National Institutes of Health, National Center for Complementary and Integrative Health (PI: Gordon, R34AT008947-03). Role: Co-Investigator. 9/30/2016 to 9/29/2019.

Mobile Application for Guided Imagery to Address Smoking, Diet, and Exercise. National Institutes of Health, National Cancer Institute (PI: Gordon, R21CA174639-01A1). Role: Co-Investigator. 1/1/2014 to 11/31/2016.

Physical Activity Predictors during Post-Partum. National Institutes of Health, National Institute of Health and Human Development (PI: Hausenblas, 1R03HD056985-01A2). Role: Consultant. 5/8/2009 to 4/30/2010.

Theoretical Assessment of Exercise Beliefs During Pregnancy. National Institutes of Health (PI: Hausenblas, R03HD054404-01A1). Role: Co-Investigator. 08/10/07 – No Cost Extension to 4/30/10).

Occupational Stress, Coping, and Burnout Detection in the Athletic Training Profession. National Athletic Trainers Association. Role: Principal Investigator. 02/20/06 to 02/19/07.

The Impact of Power-Assist Wheelchairs on QOL. National Institutes of Health (PI: Levy, R21 HD046540-01A1). Role: Co-Investigator. 01/01/05 to 12/30/07.

Neuromuscular adaptations to resistance overload in multiple sclerosis. National Multiple Sclerosis Society. (PI: White). Role: Co-Investigator. 2/01/06 to 1/31/2008.

A Comprehensive Evaluation of the Life Skills Program Being Conducted by The First Tee. World Golf Foundation. Role: Principal Investigator. 1/01/2002 to 1/01/2004.

A Stress Reduction Program for Competitive Tennis Players: An Intervention Study. United States Tennis Association. Role: Principal Investigator. 10/01/01 to 9/29/02.

Completed Research Support (Internal)

Development and Testing a Mobile Health Application for Overweight and Obese Pregnant Women. West Virginia Clinical and Translational Sciences Institute (West Virginia Clinical and Translational Science Institute: PI: Hodder, C1006000DW). Role: Principal Investigator on pilot grant. 5/15/2016 to 5/1/2017.

Guided Imagery for Diet and Exercise. West Virginia University, College of Physical Activity and Sport Sciences Pilot funding. Role: Principal Investigator. 1/10/2016 – 1/09/2016.

Testing a Psycho-Educational Training Model Intended to Improve Fitness and Increase Exercise Intensity with Older Adults. University of Florida, College of Health and Human Performance Research Opportunity Fund. Role: Principal Investigator. 2/01/06 to 3/01/07.

A multi-level examination of personality, exercise, and daily life events for individuals with physical disabilities. University of Florida, Research Opportunity Fund. Role: Principal Investigator. 5/1/2001 – 6/1/2002.

Research Statement

Note: Bolded numbers in parentheses pertain to publications below.

My research program is focused on designing and testing theory-based interventions to reduce risks of chronic disease through inter-disciplinary team science and the creative application of new and existing technologies. My expertise is in the use of guided imagery as a mind-body technique for health behavior change. Guided imagery is the controlled visualization of goals and specific health behaviors and is important in the regulation of human behavior and in many performance settings. I have shown that guided imagery has a long history of research using randomized controlled trials across many disciplines (59). Importantly, several of my published studies below have revealed how guided imagery resulted in changes in motivation and exercise behavior (39, 49, 63, 79, 81). I will elaborate on my efforts to study mental imagery in order to emphasize the programmatic and inter-disciplinary nature of my research and the use of multiple research methods.

Early in my career I used descriptive qualitative methods to understand the use of mental imagery in sport and exercise settings (5, 9) to inform measurement and intervention studies. These descriptive and cross-sectional studies directly informed two psychometric studies (17, 36) with implications for my current research. Importantly, my colleagues and I demonstrated that exercise focused mental imagery was best modeled as two higher-order constructs that could be characterized as cognitive (e.g., exercise technique, exercise routines) and motivational (e.g., appearance/health, exercise self-efficacy, exercise feelings). We also showed that these higher-order constructs explained significantly more variance in exercise behavior as compared to the sub-constructs. These higher-order imagery factors informed how guided imagery scripts were designed and tested in subsequent single arm and randomized controlled trials (RCT: 40, 50, 56, 64, 82) and continue to have implications for my research program today. It is worth noting that publication 40 has been a productive collaboration with my former students and colleagues at the University of Florida. We have published numerous studies focused on exercise, sleep, anxiety, and pain (45, 46, 48, 49, 52, 63, 67, 71, 79) with one publication focused on participant's views about mental imagery during the trial (49).

Given that many behavioral risk factors for chronic disease cluster together (i.e., sedentary behavior, diet, and smoking), I am particularly interested in using guided imagery to simultaneously or sequentially address multiple health behaviors (65 and 82). This is important because most multi-behavior interventions use several behavior change techniques and guided imagery can effectively address multiple health behaviors linked to chronic disease. My future efforts will continue to use guided imagery to address multiple health behaviors delivered through digital technologies including social media.

My collaboration with Dr. Judith Gordon and colleagues at the University of Arizona expanded my guided imagery research program to smoking cessation (55, 58, 59, 70, 77, 80). These projects have provided evidence that guided imagery is effective tool to help smokers quit and these interventions can be delivered by telephone and mHealth applications. I currently serve as the site PI on an NIH funded RCT to test the impact of guided imagery to help smokers in Arizona, New York, and West Virginia quit smoking. I am also currently funded through the West Virginia Prevention Research Center to evaluate tobacco prevention and control programs in West Virginia and in the evaluation of statewide capacity building grants.

My research portfolio is positioned to capitalize on the need for low-cost strategies with wide reaching capabilities to reduce risks of chronic disease. I will continue to collaborate with medical doctors (Drs. Haggerty and Sedney), computer scientists (Dr. Adjeroh), nutritional scientists (Dr. Olfert) and psychologists (Drs. Gordon and Steinman) among other experts on pending and future interventions that use guided imagery delivered through mHealth, social media, and other technologies such as virtual reality.
